In 1971, the American school systems echo with a growing demand for more student power over the decisions which control the lives of youths. Students have launched an attack against the "Establishment" that they feel reduces the individual to irrelevance. Recognition of existence is the cause for which young people of today are marching. Often the demand for student power runs deeper: it is a sign that today's youth do not like the world that has been handed them and want to change it.

Ironically, the wealth and security provided by the older generation is affording young people with the tool of aggression — time. They have time to champion such causes as the legalization of marijuana, civil rights, and withdrawal from Vietnam. Contrarily, they worry less about college tuition and entrance exams and are nonchalant about their own future. Students are demanding a louder voice in determining social rules, disciplinary measures, grading systems, and even the organization of the school.

All wisdom does not rest with the young. However, one important theme runs through all of the protest; the students want to have self-reliance, to have responsibility, and to have the chance to decide for themselves. If not, what is the aim of education?

All of these things leave behind them a trace for the next generation. Just as the hunter pursues the tracks of the Bobcat in the golden sands, students must follow a trail of lasting impressions engraved upon the rapid waters of changing times.

The endlessness of truth is found in walks of learning, which lead through discussions of an idea, an ideal, a song, joyful in the sunlight, spanning knowledge — past, present, and future. Truth is symbolized in the dedication of a man, a people, and a school.

Administrators keep school running smoothly

The administrative department of SHS was concerned with developing mature individuals. However, at the same time, the administration united these individuals into a concise student body. The three principals accomplished this through individual and team work.

When Mr. Harry Hamilton, Seneca High Principal, attended the meetings of Seneca Principals, he gained new ideas for SHS. In considering teachers, students, and parents, he provided cooperative leadership.

Mr. James H. Coleman was Mr. Hamilton's partner and assistant in school administration. As Assistant Principal, Mr. Coleman directed student attendance and some faculty departments. He was always there to step in for Mr. Hamilton when he was needed.

Discipline was administered by Mr. Roland Rosier. Although he resigned as a coach, Mr. Rosier remained Assistant Principal, enforcing school rules.

Acting as a team, these three created a better education for all students, better working conditions for the faculty, and better citizens for the community

Bobcats begin summer practice for season; lose first two games

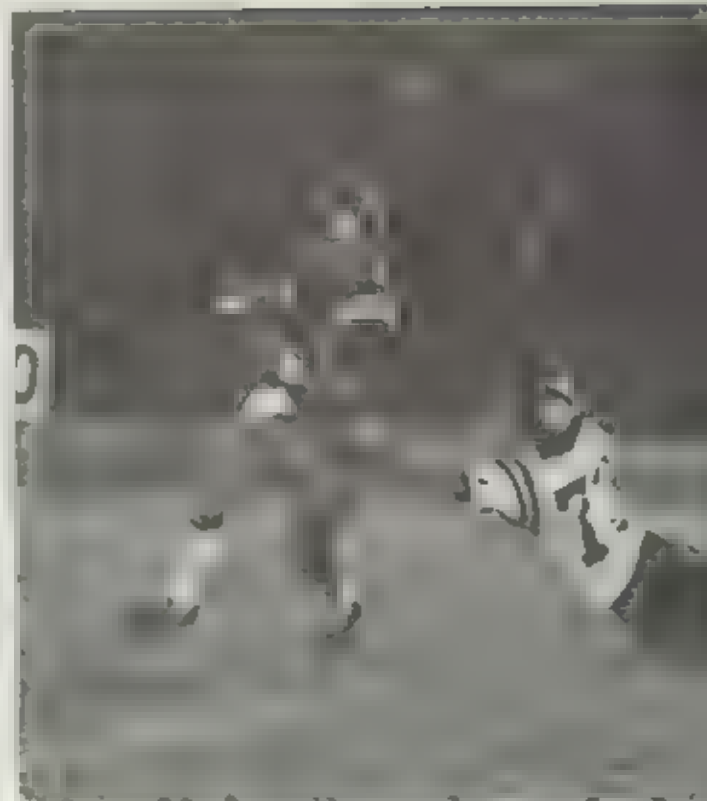

This year the Seneca High Bobcats won seven games and lost three, losing only to Palmetto, Pickens, and J. L. Mann.

In the first two games both defense and offense fell apart. Against J. L. Mann, the game was close during the first half, but Seneca could not muster an offense during the second half. The next week, Seneca sunk to the low point of the season and lost to Palmetto 34-0. Again, both defensive and offensive lines collapsed, allowing long runs for Palmetto and none for Seneca. At this point, Seneca was 0-2.

Seneca Bobcats experience last loss to Pickens, capture Daniel game

The Bobcats won the next two games with excellent offensive play. Seneca captured the West-side game on a T.D. pass from Rodney Lanning. Also the running of Chuck Hamilton dominated the entire game. Next, against Stephens County, the momentum continued through a convincing 34-6 victory. In this game, Penson Washington returned at halfback, and the defense held the opponents to only one T.D.

Then, Seneca experienced their last loss by a score of 23-6 to Pickens. The Seneca defense could not control the Pickens option play. Pickens scored two touchdowns on the option and continually gained yardage on the option. Seneca's only score came on a 65 yard punt return by Michael Robinson.

Immediately the next week the Bobcats grabbed a convincing victory by defeating Daniel 24-7. Three Daniel fumbles fell to Seneca players, Bruce, Stewart, and Phillips. Also, runs by Washington and Robinson provided two of Seneca's scores.

For the following three weeks the Bobcats maintained their winning streak. First, against Berea, the game see-sawed back and forth until the Bobcats seized the game on a run by Chuck Hamilton. The final score was 36-34. Then the Traveler's Rest team collapsed, and the Bobcats won 41-0. Similarly, Seneca defeated Pendleton 43-13. At this point they were 6-3.

Seneca finishes seven-game winning streak with Walhalla win

In the season finale against arch-rival Walhalla, Hamilton, Washington, and Phillips combined for a rushing total of 300 yards. Hamilton scored on the first drive and on an interception. Also Grahl Phillips scored on an 88-yard kick-off return. Fleming ended the scoring in the game by returning a punt 70 yards for a touchdown. As the final seconds ran out Seneca had won their last game 50-12

The Seneca High cheerleaders attended the ACA cheerleader camp and accompanied pep buses for away football games. In the summer, the cheerleaders went to the camp and sold candy to pay for half the cost. The pep buses were part of their duties as cheerleaders at football games.

After the camp, the cheerleaders held a bake sale and an ice cream sale at the school. The proceeds paid for uniforms and other items for the cheerleaders.

In addition, to attending all school functions, they inspire spirit in the student body at football games, basketball games, and pep rallies.

To be a cheerleader, a girl must maintain an eighty average and receive no failing grades. Morals, appearance, and attitude are also considered.

Bobcats win Oconee Tournament, only lose two in regular season

In the 3-A conference tournament at Greenville's Memorial Auditorium, the Seneca Basketball team finished second. They defeated Walhalla and Daniel but lost to Traveler's Rest in overtime.

After defeating Walhalla, the boys entered the semi-finals with Daniel, winning 63-45. M. Alexander dominated the fourth period scoring 13 points.

Now the Seneca Bobcats found themselves in the tournament finals against Traveler's Rest. The game was close through both halves, but Seneca captured a 44-38 lead with 5 minutes left. However, on a jump shot by T.R., the game was tied at the end of regulation time. In the overtime, T.R. slowed the game down, scored a basket, and took advantage of a Seneca turnover to win 49-48.

In the regular season Seneca began the year well by beating Westside and winning the Oconee tournament.

The boys continued their winning streak by defeating Pendleton 71-55, Daniel 62-53, Westside 63-60, Walhalla 54-43, Southside 59-53, and Berea 73-53. Cunningham, Hughes, Washington, and Alexander dominated scoring for the Bobcats in all the games. Their first loss was to Traveler's Rest

The season ended with Seneca grabbing wins from Pickens 77-41, Berea 78-66, Myrtle Beach 77-59, Pendleton, and Pickens. However, the cagers dropped one to Daniel 64-73. The Bobcats finished second in the regular season

Girls only lose one in regular season

The 3-A Conference Tournament at Greenville's Memorial Auditorium featured a victory by the Seneca girls' basketball team over Walhalla. Then they entered the finals with Daniel. The game was close at half-time with the teams deadlocked 16-16. Led by Susan Kilby's 17 points, the girls won 37-32 and advanced to the finals with Travelers Rest.

The Bobcats were soundly whipped by the Travelers Rest girls. The girls were unable to control Susan Sullivan who scored 28 points. The defense and offense were outplayed by Travelers Rest and the score reflected the superior play of Travelers Rest. The final score was 61-45.

The girls lost one game in the regular season to Travelers Rest. Also, they lost the Oconee Tournament to Westminster. Finally, they finished in a tie for first in 3-A competition.

Seneca finishes first in their division, second in conference

In 1970 the Seneca High baseball team finished first in their division and second in the Western AAA Conference.

Seneca entered the play off with Daniel tied for first place in their division. However, Seneca was losing 6-3 in the seventh inning. A single by Dennis Wheeler loaded the bases and then David McCauley stepped up to bat. He hit a four-run homer to give the Bobcats the win.

Earlier in the season the Bobcats had won the first two games of the season against Berea and Belton-Honea

Path. Next they lost two games to Daniel and Walthalla.

Then Seneca began a seven game winning streak. Through the consistent pitching of Dennis Wheeler and Person Washington in addition to the hitting of Willie Aiken and Chuck Hamilton, Seneca managed to tie Daniel in the regular season. The loss of the last game to Easley forced Seneca into the play off with Daniel.

After the play off, Seneca lost the Western Conference championship in two losses to Greer.

Seneca wrestlers finish with best record ever at Seneca High

This year the Seneca High wrestling team finished with the best record of any previous Seneca team with a 4-5 record. They defeated Westside twice and Westminster twice, but lost two matches to Daniel and to J. L. Mann and one to Belton-Honea Path.

After defeating Westminster soundly in a preseason match and capturing a match against Westside, the Bobcats traveled to Belton-Honea Path. The Bears whipped Seneca badly. During the matches, tempers had been on edge. At the end of the match a fight broke out.

Afterwards, the team defeated Westminster and lost to J. L. Mann. The Wrestlers slipped by Westminster and were badly whipped by J. L. Mann. They then fell to Daniel and J. L. Mann, but handed two losses to Westminster and Westside

To promote physical fitness, physical education students participated in sports and conditioning tests. At the first of the year, conditioning exercises and a fitness test occupy class periods

Then the students studied flag football. First Coach Thompson described the history and rules of football. Second, students tested themselves through skill exercises. Third, the class divided into teams and competed with each other.

Next, volleyball was studied. Students studied the history, serving, and volleying of volleyball

Tumbling and balancing were next on the schedule. Flips, springs, and rolls were all practiced. The year was finished with a fitness test and softball

Bobcats select Joan Phillips to be crowned Homecoming Queen of 1970

At Seneca High's homecoming game, Joan Phillips was picked as homecoming queen. Sponsors of the football players and class attendants composed the 13 entrants. Each senior football player sponsored one girl, and each class chose two attendants. Bobby Stewart sponsored Joan Phillips, and Bruce Hudson escorted her.

Seneca was leading Pendleton at half-time. It was time for the crowning of the queen. Person Washington and Bobby Rogers were waiting with the crown when the loudspeaker announced that the football players had chosen Joan as their homecoming queen.

Joan has many other interests besides being homecoming queen. She is captain of the majorettes and has been a class attendant in both the ninth and tenth grades. Student Council, Pep Club, and swimming are among her activities. Also, Joan was Miss Freshman Class of 1968-1969.

Before the homecoming game the players had met and had voted on the entrants. The selection of Joan as queen had been kept secret until the half-time festivities. Joan was the first junior to be chosen homecoming queen.

The Junior Varsity cheerleaders held a banquet for the J.V. football team this year. Proceeds from a bake sale provided the money necessary for the banquet.

In addition the J.V. cheerleaders were present at all J.V. football games and basketball games.

The 1970 Junior Varsity football team ended the season with a 4-6 record. The team defeated Walhalla, Westminster, Pendleton, and Berea.

At the beginning of the season the J.V.'s won two and lost one. The J. L. Mann game featured a collapse of the J.V.'s as they lost 36-0. Seneca quarterback Duncan threw two touchdown passes, but Palmetto came back and won 20-16. Again the Bobcats fell apart, this time at the hands of Westside and lost 34-0.

The Westminster game marked the first win for the J.V.'s. Two touchdowns by Lacey, one by Sosebee, and one by Lee raised the score to 24-0.

Next the Bobcats dropped two games to Daniel and Pickens. Against Daniel, Nimmons captured Seneca's only T.D. on a bungled pass. However, Daniel intercepted for 12 points, and the score was 14-6. Pickens won 6-0.

In the last four games Seneca was victorious over Berea, Pendleton, and Walhalla, but lost 36-6 to McDuffie. Walhalla lost 18-12 and Berea lost 8-0.

The Seneca Junior Varsity basketball team won 7 games and lost 7 during the 1970-71 season.

The J.V.'s began the season with 5 wins. Led by Lacey, Nimmons, and Young, the Bobcats defeated Westside twice, Pendleton, Daniel and Walhalla. The first game against

Westside was the only close one, but the Bobcats grabbed a 39-34 win

The cagers then lost three straight games. Southside, Travelers Rest, and Pickens all topped the Seneca J.V.'s

There are often many silent rows that would drive one to dullness if it weren't for William Shakespeare and Carl Sandburg, you touch us with a spoken word and we walk back in the night feeling BLINK BLINK BLINK BLINK—five more minutes girls, step right up to the long line of lovers and say your last goodbye before you blow your mind "May all your Christmases be Merry" and my, the decorations take on a different note as we pitter patter down halls of "RAH RAH rah rah rah the Bobcats are the best by far" into the night from never, never land the Czech Philharmonic fingers our minds with sunny days you surprise and warm us in mid-winter nothing could be finer than to be presently, be today, be now network of class crossed farmer's daughters, banker's child, child of the artist, fatherless son touching lab-coated, "Libe" carrelled, human explorations reach out to Ustad Ali Akbar Khan you are ecstasy-minds transmigrate Eastward to "What's the lowdown on Vietnam" comes a voice crying from the yellow steam-shovel you make such pretty holes everywhere we go mini-skirted babes swing to class and legs never looked so goodness, how the apathy cycle sets in again and leaders rumpelstiltskin Lettermen you make us swoon and we love to sing along with You got to understand baby "May I sit by you for you are flowered lovely and I think I like you" Books handled, skimmed, books pored over, books marked-sometimes books loved 3.6, 2.8, 2.6, 3.0, 2.2, 2.4, 2.6, 2.8 WHO DO WE APPRECIATE? some times we peel off the gunkishness in life among friends infinite possibilities explode us to discovery.

A Senior Prayer

O Everlasting Merciful Father keep us in the golden light of Thy salvation as we face so many complicated and difficult times. Only Thou knowest what tomorrow holds for we are as sheep which easily go astray without Thy loving guidance. Lord we especially give thanks as we look back over the years and see how Thou led us to grow in body and in knowledge. In times of joy Thou watched over us in times of sorrow trouble and hardship Thou has been patient and faithful to lift us up. Whether we enter the world to find our way or whether we go onto higher learning be with us, for we need Thee always. May the passage of time increase our awareness of Thy blessings. May all the beautiful memories (some fading, some clear) which are still alive in our hearts guide us into a new future in Thee.

A Thankful Senior,
Harry McCall

The Student Council sponsored a March of Dimes Campaign at Seneca High School this year. Using class competition they managed to raise over 200 dollars.

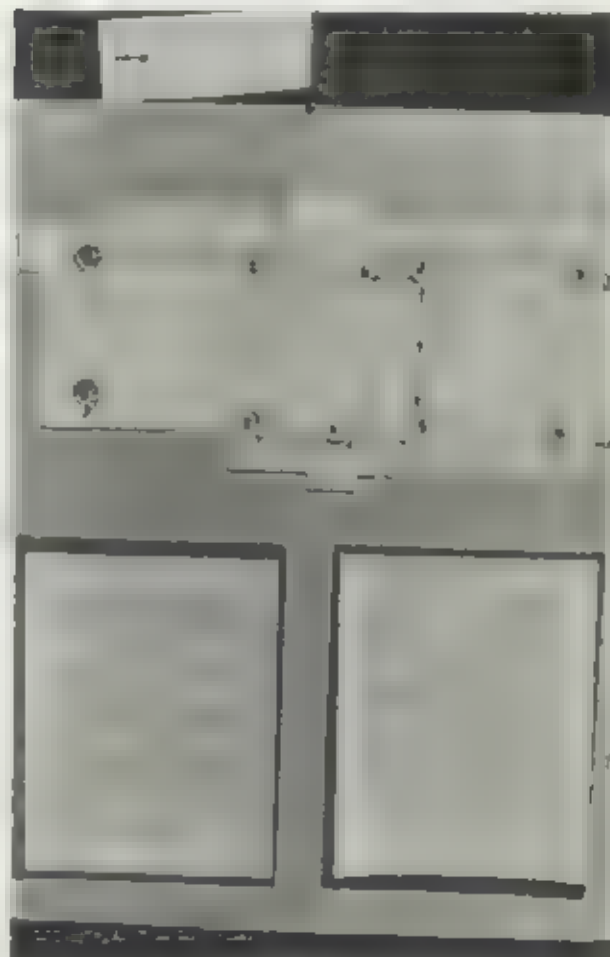

Also, during Christmas the Council formed a post office among the home room for delivery of cards. Then a bulletin board decorating contest and a Christmas dance completed the Christmas season at Seneca High.

In addition, the Student Council attempted to improve school spirit. To accomplish this members sold Booster badges and revised the handbook. Finally the Student Council served the school and students in several ways. Hall monitors direct students in the halls during their study periods.

As a project this year the Christian Girls' Club attempted to help the patients of Lila Doyle. At Thanksgiving and again at Christmas the club members visited the residents of the convalescent home. The club also set up a program to visit the patients once a month.

Two other religious projects were started by the club. The members planned a party for the Miracle Hill children and began a Bible Study.

Money raising projects included bake sales and car washes. Projects for the needed consumed the money that was raised.

Club meetings were highlighted by panel discussions.

DECA hears speakers, sees films, installs officers

The DECA Club of Seneca High participated in many different programs. The members heard speakers, saw films, and installed their officers. Also, the club held an appreciation banquet and a leadership conference.

The club raised money by using two projects. These two projects were the selling of chocolate candy and Christmas candles. The funds provided for a field trip to Atlanta.

Block S Club sells athletic items to buy plaque

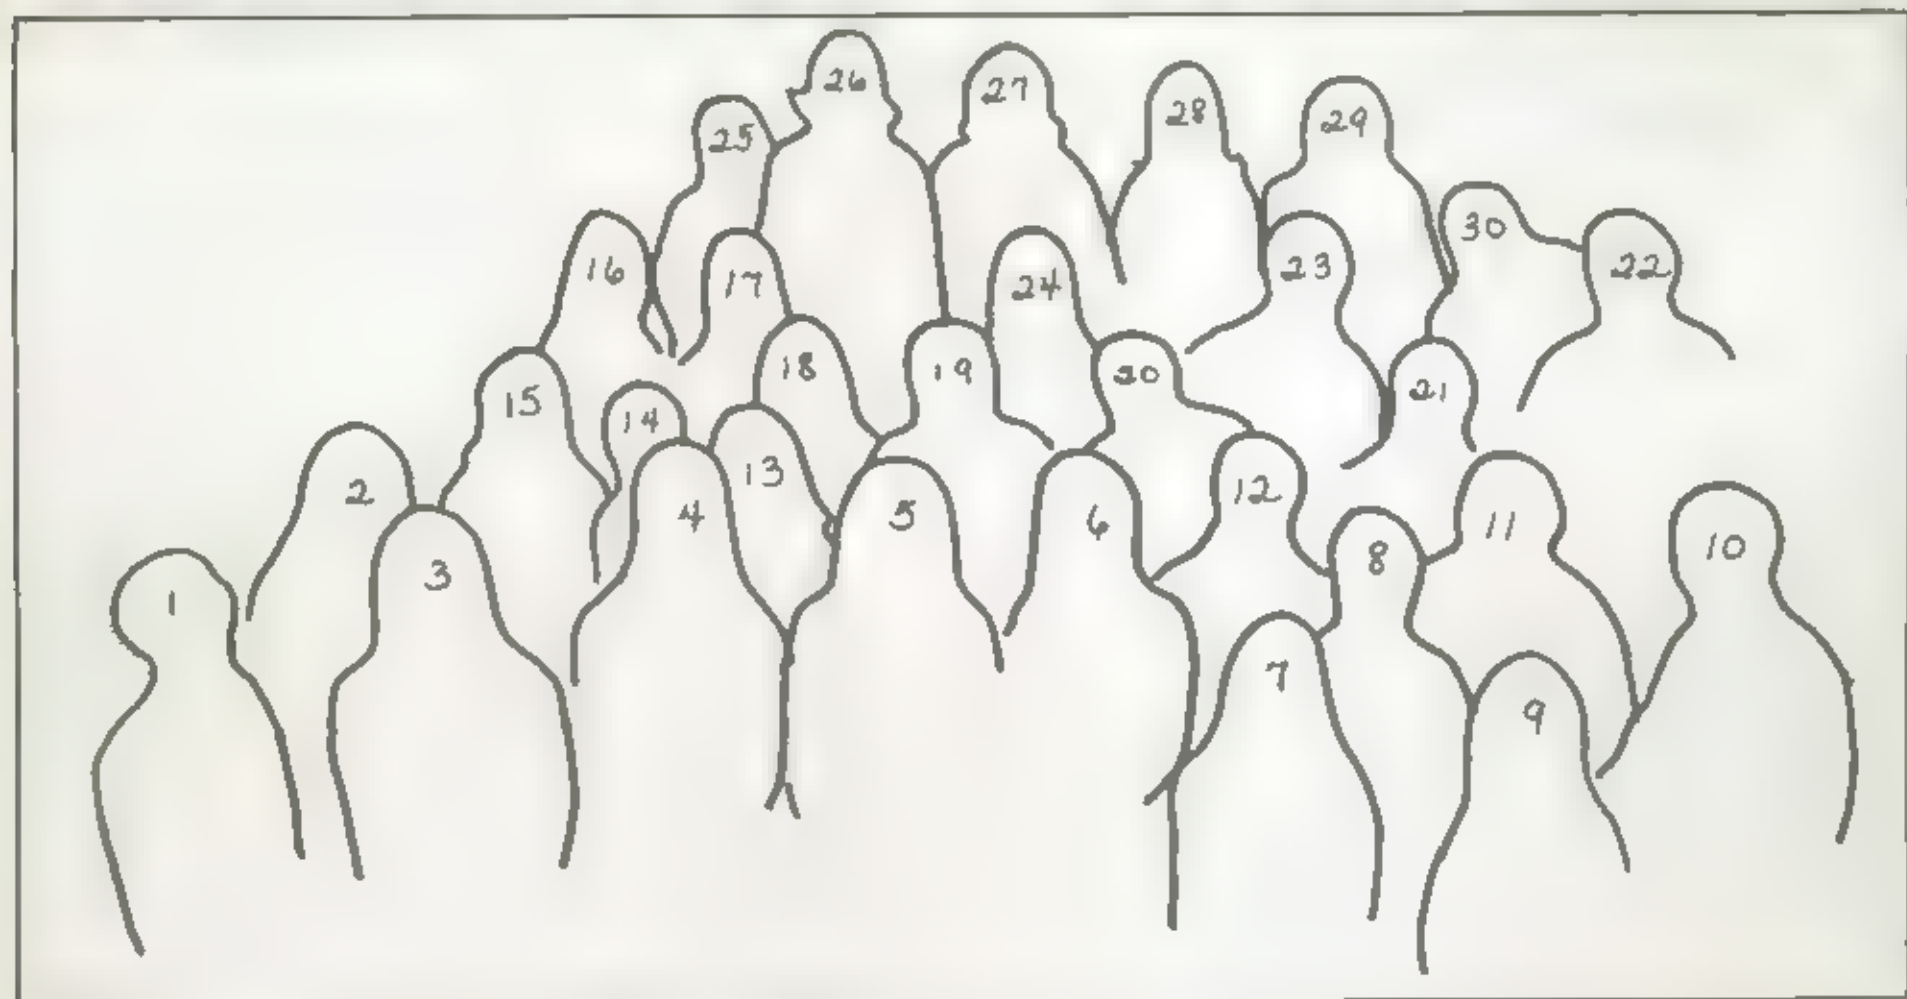

The Block S Club sold athletic items this year. Among the items were football programs, pens, cushions, and school shirts.

The proceeds are to pay for a plaque. This plaque is awarded each year to the person who contributed the most to athletics at Seneca. The plaque is given at the All Sports Banquet.

Athletes who have received a letter in their sport are eligible to join the Block S Club. New members must attend the initiation in the spring.

Beta Club attends State Beta Convention in Columbia, runs member for state secretary, presents talent show

Catherine Hunsucker, Seneca High Beta Club member, ran for Secretary of the State Beta Club at the convention in February. Members made banners, posters, and badges for the campaign with the help of Larry Lother. The members of the campaign committee left a day early to prepare for the campaign in Columbia. With the help of Seneca members, Catherine hoped to win the election.

At their meetings, Beta Club members heard many speakers. David Schmidt, State Beta Club President, talked to the group in October. Then in December, Mrs. Jim Puckett, County Health nurse, described the workings of the Health Department for the members. Finally, Mr. Sandy Andron spoke to the club about his trip to Israel and the Mideast War.

During Christmas, members sent a Christmas stocking and a Christmas card to the members of the faculty.

The club raised money by operating a concession stand at all home football games. Also, the club hoped to publish a Beta Club handbook sometime this year.

To be a Beta Club member, a student must have a 90 or above average for three consecutive semesters. Also, members must be approved by a faculty committee.

Key Club distributes food to needy families

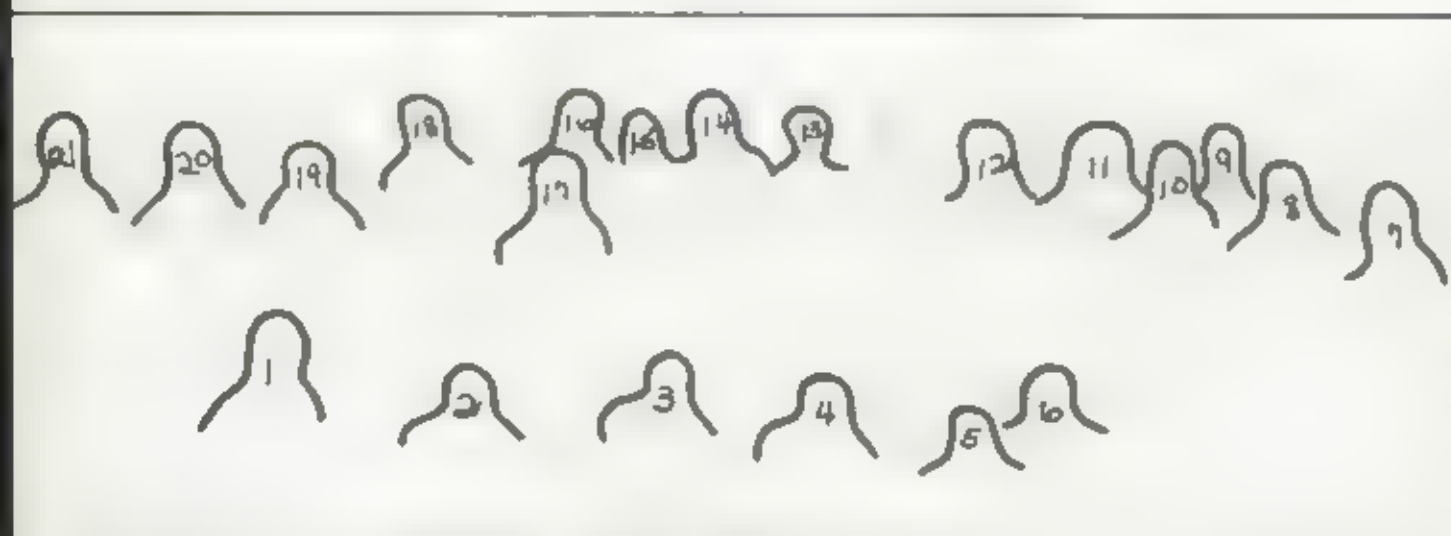

This year during Thanksgiving the Seneca High Key Club collected food for needy families. Under the supervision of their advisor, Mrs. James Puckett, and President Bobby Dubose, the Club placed boxes for the food in homerooms. After the student body filled the boxes, the food was distributed the night before Thanksgiving to needy families by club members.

The Key Club is a high school branch of Kiwanis consisting of male students in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades.

The Pep Club of Seneca High School tried to improve school spirit in their first year. The members learned cheers and chants during their meetings. Also, the members made posters and banners for athletic events.

The club hoped to hold a dance at the school during 1971. Doughnuts were sold to provide money for the dance.

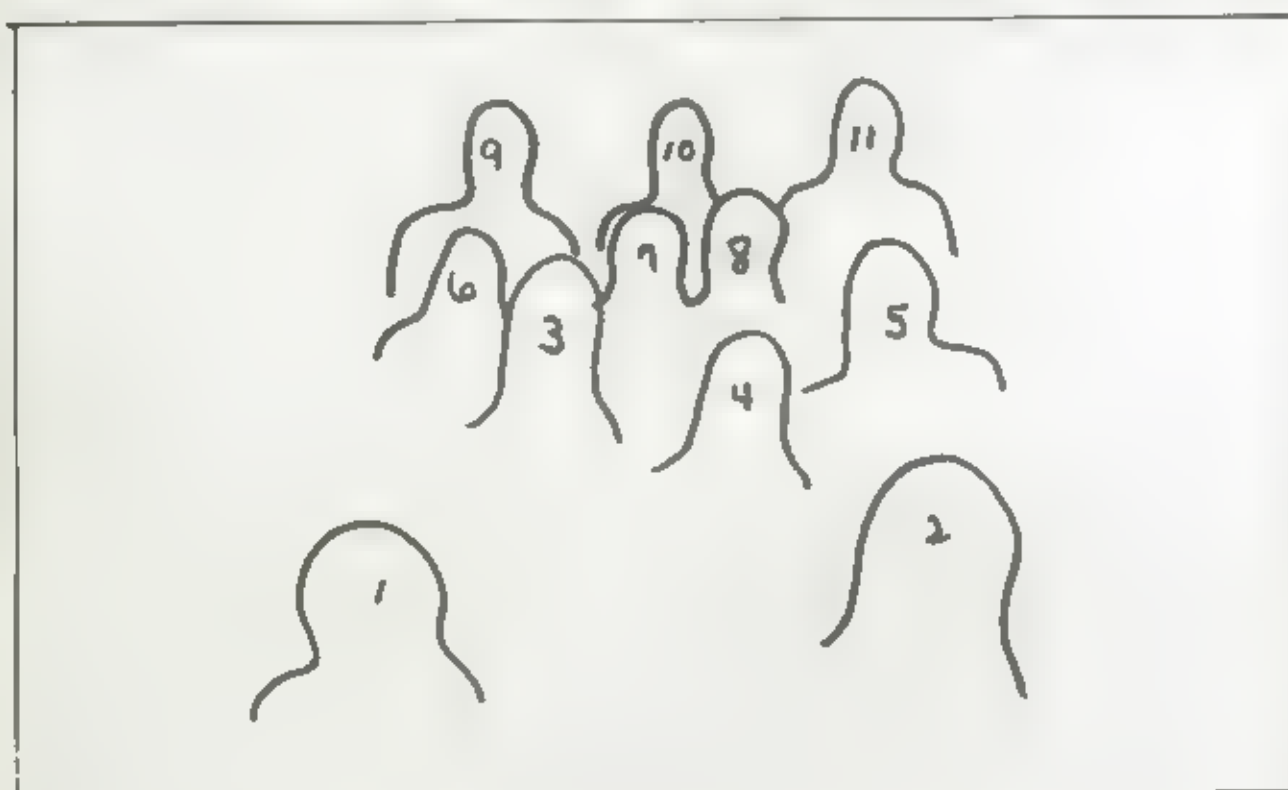

Members must be students at Seneca High and be interested in encouraging school spirit.

Last year the Sr. Science Club bought a refrigerator and two sets of weights for the chemistry lab. According to the club's advisor, Mrs. Edens, the group intends to buy other equipment for the lab this year. The basketball game concession stand that the club operates has provided money for the purchases.

In addition the Sr. Science Club has provided other services. During activity periods the club provided a slide-rule class for interested students. Also, at their meetings the members saw films on atoms, atomic energy, and magnets. Late in the year the club planned a trip to Atlanta

FTA members gaze intently at a program during club period

The programs and projects of the FTA club this year helped members to plan for careers in teaching

At their meetings, the club had programs concerning this. The members participated in a panel discussion on the good and bad of teaching. They also reviewed teaching methods and procedures. Then the club had a program on planning projects and class periods.

Through projects the club tried to raise money and emphasize teaching to the student body. Thus, they planned an open house at SHS and an assembly on education. To raise money the members planned a student-faculty basketball game. Finally, the club hoped to attend "FTA Day" at Clemson University.

After hearing a speech by Professor "Frog" Ware of Clemson, the Conservation Club decided to start a campaign to save the wood-ducks. To do this, the club planned to build houses for the ducks and to place them near area lakes.

In order to raise money for this, a committee was set up by President Scott Nickles. The committee decided to sell club pins and dough-nuts.

At their meetings the club elected officers, saw films, and heard speakers. The films included ones on disappearing wildlife and pollution. Also the club heard Colonel McConnel, their advisor, describe some area legends.

The club had planned to sell patches, build bluebird houses, and purple martin houses. These, however, proved to be either impossible or impractical.

Leaders direct supper, carwash to finance Military Ball

MSG Foyle Golden leads the battalion in drill

During the school year the ROTC cadets under the direction of MSG Foyle Golden and Lt. Col. Boggs A. Robinson prepared for the Military Ball. Among the projects undertaken to finance the ball were a pancake supper, a car wash, and a chicken barbecue.

The cadet corps held its pancake supper in January of 1971. Because more people attended than were expected, the supper lasted until nine o'clock. However, the JROTC made a large profit and a large ball was expected.

In the spring the Military Ball was held in the cafeteria. The Cadet Corps decorated the cafeteria, and the Infinite Baffle provided the music. The battalions and companies chose sponsors for the ball.

Also the JROTC has formed a rifle team at Seneca High. "This year we will have our rifle range ready for use," said MSG. Fred Golden. The team will compete with other schools, as will the Drill teams and the Drill and Bugle Corps.

Some opponents were Anderson High, Richmond Academy, and Johnson City.

Listening to Mag. Golden, Bobby Poole learns military history

On October 4, 1970 Mr. Gerald Johnson died. He had been a geometry, algebra, and general math teacher as well as the Annual Staff advisor. In order to memorialize Mr. Johnson's influence on Seneca High, his wife and mother donated his math books to the library. These books were dedicated at a ceremony in February of 1971 by a joint meeting of the math department, Annual Staff, and Mr Coleman.

Mr. Johnson had been at SHS for several years. His loping walk, chalk-stained pants, and warm smile were familiar sights to all students. When he died, the entire school felt the blow. He was mourned, and silence dominated the 400's hall for several days. Although the initial grief of death may have vanished, he will always be remembered as a teacher, a friend, and as a gentle human being

BI-LO, INC.

And even now
A year's last tribute to a year—
A year that has reaped
An abundance of love and learning for some,
A mist of quiet solitude for others.
For we will remember the good times:
The times we thought life was beautiful
The fads and fancies,
Trips away, visitors, parades,
Dances, parties, special days,
And events...things done with friends with spirit.
And we will remember the bad times:
The hours of loneliness, the days of searching,
Emotions from the heart,
The lack of school spirit, the pensive and worried people,
And the endless stacks of unexcused tardy permits and absences.
Some of us are leaving now,
Turning our backs, yet not untouched—
Not the same as we were when we first came.
Our dreams have changed so many times
That we no longer recognize the ones we left behind.
As summer stretches itself out
Lazily before us,
We take one last look behind
At the laughter, the love, the freedom, and the tears.
They are the things that will never change
But will remain to be shared
By another class, another group of faces.
And other hearts will find themselves enraptured
By the kaleidoscope of the blue and the gold.
